was given," said President Young to a CETTIC man to-day, "the League set about protecting itself by endeavoring to secure new material to take the place of the disaffected ballplayers. With this end in view, agents of the League were sent to all parts of the country in quest of young players or men who had hitherto confined their work to minor leagues. For fear that this might not have the desired effect, authority was conferred upon me to prepare a circular to distribute throughout the United States addressed to players who might be recommended by club managers and others as capable of strengthening the League ranks. There has been a gratifying response to the circulars and when the League meets Wednesday at New York I will present the names of about three hundred new men for consideration, and no matter how the injunction suit against Ward terminates we will have all the material that we want to complete the ten teams for the year 1890. A copy of the circular in question is as follows:

l hereby agree to play baseball during the season of 1800 with any club, member of the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs, desiring my services for dollars per mouth. My position is age, years; weight; height. I played last season with a member of the Association. My batting record was ; fielding. Yours, respectfully. This circular was accompanied by the following: Sin: Please fill out the above carefully, sign your name and give your postoffice address and I will take pleasure in presenting it to the League at the earliest opportunity. Give your lowest terms.

Yours, truly,

N. E. Young.

In response to this circular President Young received replies from the fol-lowing, who are anxious to become League players:

NOT SOMETHING NEW.

The Country Has Experienced a Number of Mild Winters.

In reply to the question if the mildness of the present winter had ever been equaled in the Middle and Northwestern States, the Atlanta Constitution says: We have a clipping from the Taun ton, Mass, Gazette, which furnishes an answer to our correspondent which will doubtless be satisfactory: 1838-39—A very mild winter; only three or four cold days and no sleighing. 1840—December 14, 15 and 16 very mild days; flowers starting. 1849-1850—A mild winter; robins remained all winter. 1857-1858-Mild winter. December 24, 1857, a dandelion in bloom was picked at Weir Village. January 28, 1858, buds on the cherry trees swelling. 1860—December 27, mercury is 61

1860—December 27, mercury is 61 degrees above to-day.
1866—December 8, a full blown rose was picked in Connecticut to-day.
1868-1869—A very mild winter.
1869-1870—A remarkably mild winter. December 8, trees and shrubbery in bud and grass green as in May. All through the month of January dustmen swent the streets of Boston and New swept the streets of Boston and New York; on the 10th, in Olympia, Wash., twenty-two varieties of flowers were picked in the open air; farmers plowed in Massachusetts, violets bloomed in New England and peas were two inches above ground on Long Island. In this city buds of the arbutus and pansies in bloom were picked on Language 28. The bloom were picked on January 28. The month was 8 degrees warmer than for forty six years. On February 5 the pussywillow blossomed in Connecticut and in Norwich, the same day, the buds of the magnolia were an inch long and Japan quinces were opening their buds. On the 16th a rosebush full of buds was seen at Easton, Pa.; a dahlia in full bloom at Scranton; dandelions at Easton and grasshoppers at Bethlehem. On the 20th, at Providence, the chickweed, snowdrop and violets were in bud or blossom. March 1 brought early radishes to the market at Alton, Ill. 1875-1876—Mild winter. On January 1 the thermometer was 76 above in this city, and on February 8 buds were swelling.

1877-1878—Very mild winter. December 28, 1877, trees and shrubs budded and dandelions were in bloom in many places. January 16, ground unfrozen, bluebirds and robins singing and groung again. and grass green as in April. February 28, crocuses in bloom. December 26, 1877, ten dandelions picked on Boston Common. On the 27th trailing arbutus in bloom found at Portsmouth, and dandelions in blossom; apple and cherry trees, rose and lilac bushes budded at Fitchburg. On the 20th dandelions and pansies in bloom; thirteen fullblown pansies were picked at Wilkin-sonville, and January 1 four more. On December 31 a rose bush in Bedford was in full bloom. On January 12 a full-blown pansy was picked at New Bedford, and at New London, Conn., a man picked a quart of ripe strawber ries from his vines.

1878-1880-A mild winter. December 18, 1879, dandelions in full bloom found at Westerly, R. I. On January 5, 1880, bluebirds were singing in Strat ford and grasshoppers were seen in New Haven: 12th, grasshoppers were seen in New Haven: 12th, grasshoppers seen, buds swelling, farmers plowing at Ashaway, R. I.; 16th, arbutus in bloom picked in Farmouth, Mass., and bluebirds, robins, larks and woodpeckers seen in Windham County, Me., and leaf buds of the honeysuckle grew half an inch; 26th, violets and dandelions in bloom at Newport, and on the 28th grass growing farmers plowing in Warren. growing, farmers plowing in Warren, L. I., and grasshoppers seen at Westport, Mass. February 17, snowdrops in bloom in Boston Highlands, and on the 26th crocuses in bloom at Salem, Mass.

Raltimore & Ohio Railread. It is now universally conceded by even the most fanatical tectotalers that a glass of thoroughly matured and pure wine is the most wholesome, health and strength-giving beverage for mankind. Almost every State—no matter how cold its climate—produces grapes from which wine is pressed, but THE PASADENA WINES are made from those luscious SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA grapes which attain the highest grade of maturity and ripeness and are therefore the best wines in the market.
